Council thanked the RCMP for their ongoing service and community involvement.

4.2 Community Services Arbor Webster

Arbor Webster provided an update on behalf of the Government of Yukon's Department of Community Services.

Council was advised that the informal Municipal Act review committee had completed its review and that Community Affairs was preparing a report outlining its findings, key issues and potential solutions.

She also highlighted two training opportunities: a 90-minute asset management workshop tailored to the Village of Carmacks, and a three-hour roles and responsibilities session for Council, the Mayor, the CAO and administration. Council expressed interest in considering the training after the summer.

An update was also provided on the development of a community infrastructure plan and coordinated land-development strategies for rural Yukon and Whitehorse. A survey and project snapshot form had been distributed, with responses due July 29, 2026. Council requested further information about the contractor retained to review Yukon's land-development processes and emphasized the value of an independent perspective.

6.3 CAO Report

CAO Blake Rogers reported on activities completed since the previous Council meeting.

CAO advised that the next Joint Council Meeting with Little Salmon Carmacks First Nation had been scheduled for July 29, 2026, at 5:00 PM and would be hosted by Little Salmon Carmacks First Nation.

Emergency preparedness activities continued over the weekend after river conditions were elevated to a flood watch. Administration monitored water levels and remained in contact with the Fire Chief, Little Salmon Carmacks First Nation Emergency Management, and Yukon emergency officials. The river had begun to decline and the advisory was reduced to a high streamflow advisory, although monitoring would continue.

Department manager meetings continued on a biweekly basis to improve internal communication and follow up on Council direction. Administration also participated in meetings concerning bylaw enforcement, emergency planning, land-development strategies, housing financing, animal care and control, and future Joint Council priorities.

CAO advised that Administration had begun meeting with financial institutions to better understand barriers faced by Housing Accelerator Fund applicants. Key issues included low rural property assessments, high down-payment requirements, modular-home financing, transportation costs, and limited comparable property sales. Administration plans to meet with all five major banks and share the findings with the Association of Yukon Communities and other Yukon municipalities.

Work also continued on reviewing emergency management plans, updating the Village Strategic Plan, improving public communications, researching animal control initiatives, and supporting housing development.

6.4 Finance Report

Finance Officer A. Wylimeczyk provided report for June 2026. Council reviewed the Finance Report. Administration clarified that approximately 81 percent of property owners had paid their 2026 property taxes by the deadline, which was lower than in previous years. Outstanding accounts will be subject to the applicable penalty and interest, and additional notices will be issued.

26-13-04 M/S Councillors T. Wheeler / H. Belanger motioned to accept the expenditure summary report which includes payroll and cheque log as presented.

Bylaw Services Constable Liam Ferraz provided an update on enforcement activities conducted throughout the month, including patrols, dog control matters, parking concerns, and public inquiries.

Administration confirmed that a violation ticket had been issued to a contractor in connection with unauthorized construction activities.

6.8 Association of Yukon Communities Report

Nothing to Report.

7. Bylaws

None.

8. New and Unfinished Business

8.1 Proposed Joint Council Meeting Agenda Items

Council discussed possible agenda items for the July 29, 2026 Joint Council Meeting with Little Salmon Carmacks First Nation. Proposed topics included the lagoon, bylaw enforcement, the Community Safety Officer program, health infrastructure, solid waste and recycling, firearms education, the proposed railway corridor, energy projects, animal care and control, emergency planning, and Operation Nanook.

Administration will coordinate the proposed agenda items with Little Salmon Carmacks First Nation.

8.2 Council Strategic Planning Session Follow-Up

Administration provided Council with a draft strategic plan prepared following the May 18, 2026 planning session. The draft reviewed progress under the Imagine Carmacks Official Community Plan 2021–2031 and identified possible interim Council priorities.

Copies will be provided to Council for review and comment. Administration will prepare a revised draft incorporating Council feedback. Council supported undertaking public engagement once the next draft is completed.

8.3 Landfill Access for Local Contractors

Administration reported on options for providing contractors with improved access to the landfill. Unsupervised key access was not recommended because of liability, regulatory, operational, and accountability concerns.

Council discussed alternatives including scheduled access by Public Works staff, an on-call arrangement, coordinating contractor schedules with existing landfill hours, and extending the landfill operating schedule. Administration advised that opening the landfill for an additional day may improve service and generate additional revenue.

Administration will review staffing, labour, scheduling, and financial implications and return to Council with recommendations.

8.4 River Drive Construction Issues

Administration provided an update regarding unauthorized construction activities at the end of River Drive. Concerns included work proceeding without the required permit, debris and rocks on the Robert Campbell Highway, damage to Village infrastructure, lack of advance notice, and unclear responsibilities among the parties involved.

Administration communicated with Naku Construction, Carmacks Development Corporation, Little Salmon Carmacks First Nation, the project manager, and the Government of Yukon. Naku Construction acknowledged the concerns, apologized, and agreed to pay for damage to Village property.

A total of $1,800 in bylaw fines was issued. Public Works will inspect the affected Village assets after construction is completed, and the responsible party will be invoiced for repair costs.

Council requested information regarding how fine revenue and other miscellaneous revenue are recorded and whether such funds could be allocated to a dedicated community or programming fund. Administration will report back at a future meeting.

8.5 Housing Accelerator Fund Financing Challenges

Council discussed financial and logistical barriers affecting Housing Accelerator Fund applicants. Challenges included low rural land assessments, high modular-home deposits, limited mortgage options before a modular unit is installed, transportation and insurance costs, and limited local contractor availability.

Administration had met with Scotiabank and CIBC and plans to meet with the remaining major financial institutions. The findings will be shared with the Association of Yukon Communities, other municipalities, and government housing officials to support advocacy for improved financing options in rural Yukon.

Administration also advised that a Request for Expressions of Interest was being prepared for modular-home suppliers. The Village will explore whether a municipal purchase could help negotiate reduced pricing or deposit requirements for participating residents.

8.6 Operation Nanook

Council reviewed an invitation for the Village to participate in an Operation Nanook emergency-management tabletop exercise. Administration recommended participating because of the potential value to municipal emergency planning.

Council supported adding the matter to the upcoming Joint Council Meeting agenda to explore participation with Little Salmon Carmacks First Nation.

8.7 Village Communications

Council and Administration discussed options to improve communication with residents, particularly those who do not use Facebook or other online services. Council noted that the electronic sign is useful for short notices but is not suitable for detailed community information.

Council discussed the former community newsletter, The Hooter, which was historically assembled by volunteers using notices submitted by residents and organizations. The Village provided paper and photocopying support. The publication ended after volunteer and staff capacity declined.

Possible options included working with the Little Salmon Carmacks First Nation communications staff, involving Tantalus School, consulting former newsletter contributors, developing a Village-specific one-page newsletter, and increasing printed notices at public locations.

Administration will consult with community partners and return to Council with options for improving Village communications.

8.8 Water License Renewal

Administration advised that the Village's current water licence expires at the end of 2028 and recommended beginning the renewal process well in advance. The process may take a year or longer because of the Yukon Water Board's workload and the technical and regulatory information required.

Preliminary discussions had begun with an environmental engineering firm regarding the possible scope and cost of the work. Administration recommended first meeting with Yukon Water Board staff to clarify the process and required information before determining whether a Request for Proposals is needed.

Council also discussed operator training and certification. Two Village employees are expected to attend a water-operator conference in Vancouver in September, and Administration is exploring additional certification and training opportunities through the Environmental Operators Certification Program and Yukon University.

Administration will confirm the renewal requirements and return to Council with a proposed scope of work, timeline, and budget.
